

PRESS NOTE

“GUEST LECTURE ON INTRODUCTION OF BASIC IMMUNOLOGY”

MATS School of Biological and Chemical Sciences organized “One Day Guest Lecture on Introduction of Basic Immunology”. NET- SET Qualified and Asst. Professor Ms. Tanushree Chakraborty of St. Thomas College, Bhilai which is affiliated to Durg University, Durg gave Expert Lecture on Introduction of Basic Immunology. Immunity plays a vital role and how it is important in Human Body, Ms. Chakraborty very smoothly elaborated to the students and faculty members of MATS School of Biological and Chemical Sciences. At the last Ms. Tanushree informed to the students about how to qualify NET, SET and shared the story of her success and experiences in the different fields of Life Sciences and told the different scopes of Biotechnology.

During this One Day Guest Lecture, the participants were gained many things which were expressed in their face. More than 90 Students and Faculty Members were actively participated in this event. Dr. Amit Dutta, Head, MATS School of Biological and Chemical Sciences gave the welcome speech and introduce Ms. Tanushree Chakraborty by sharing the Details Biography. Hon’ble Chancellor Shri Gajraj Pagariya Sir gave special wishes to all the participants and assures that in future also this type of successful and fruitful Expert Lecture will organize. Hon’ble Vice Chancellor Prof. Byju John, Director General Priyesh Pagariya, Registrar Shri Gokulananda Panda of MATS University have congratulated to all the Participants for their active participation in this Lecture. All the Staff Members of MATS School of Biological and Chemical Sciences were also present in the programme. Mr. Vishwaprakash Roy & Dr. Suruchi Parkhey successfully coordinated this whole programme.

